2. Period of Service

- You are required to sign a one-year training-cum-service agreement.
- A six-month probation period will apply. Your performance will be assessed before confirmation.
- If performance is unsatisfactory, probation may be extended or employment terminated.
- Additional: Breach of the service agreement during this period may result in legal consequences or compensation recovery.

3. Hours of Work

- Workdays: 5 days/week. Working hours depend on your project or client location.
- Shift work or weekend duty may be required.
- The company does not provide overtime compensation.
- Additional: Flexible work arrangements may be granted based on managerial approval and project requirements.

4. Leaves & Holidays

- You are entitled to 18 days of leave per year (12 paid + 6 casual), pro-rated from the date of joining.
- Earned leaves are credited monthly and can be en-cashed as per policy.
- Holidays depend on the location of your posting.
- Additional: All leave requests must be applied through the company leave management system.

5. Unauthorized Absence from Work

- Any unauthorized absence for three or more consecutive days will be deemed as absconding and may result in disciplinary action or legal proceedings.

6. Disputes

- All employment matters shall be governed in accordance with Indian laws, including but not limited to the Indian Contract Act, 1872 and the relevant State Shops and Establishments Act. The Company encourages amicable resolution of disputes through internal grievance redressal mechanisms or arbitration before initiating litigation.
- Legal disputes will fall under Hyderabad jurisdiction unless otherwise specified for overseas assignments.
- In case of non-compete violations, the company may seek damages and injunctive relief.
- Additional: Disputes should first be addressed through mediation or arbitration before legal recourse.

7. Background Verification

- All background checks will be carried out in compliance with relevant privacy laws. Drug screening, if performed, shall follow best practices and medical confidentiality standards. You are expected to disclose any prior legal issues or employment history honestly as per company norms.

8. Confidentiality

- You must maintain strict confidentiality regarding company information, trade secrets, and client data.
- Unauthorized disclosure may result in legal action and termination.
- This obligation continues even after employment ends.
- Additional: Confidentiality extends to all proprietary information, including but not limited to business strategies, financial data, and technical specifications.

9. Intellectual Property

- All work products, inventions, and intellectual property created during your employment belong to the company. You agree to assign all rights to the company and assist in securing patents, copyrights, or other protections as needed.

10. Termination

- Either party may terminate employment with appropriate notice as per company policy.
- The company reserves the right to terminate immediately for misconduct, breach of contract, or poor performance.
- Upon termination, you must return all company property and complete exit formalities.
- Additional: Notice period requirements and severance terms will be governed by applicable labor laws and company policies.

11. Non-Compete & Non-Solicitation

- During employment and for a specified period after, you agree not to engage in competing business activities.
- You shall not solicit company clients, employees, or contractors for competing purposes.
- Violation may result in legal action and claims for damages.
- Additional: The non-compete period and geographic scope will be reasonable and enforceable under applicable law.

12. Code of Conduct

- You are expected to maintain professional behavior and adhere to company policies.
- Harassment, discrimination, or unethical conduct will not be tolerated.
- Compliance with all applicable laws and regulations is mandatory.
- Additional: Regular training on code of conduct and ethics will be provided.

13. Data Protection & Privacy

- You must comply with all data protection laws and company privacy policies. Personal data of employees, clients, and stakeholders must be handled with care and only for legitimate business purposes. Unauthorized access or misuse will result in disciplinary action.

14. Amendments

- The company reserves the right to modify these terms and conditions at any time. You will be notified of significant changes, and continued employment constitutes acceptance of the revised terms.

15. Final Clauses

- Full and final settlement will be processed within 45 days from your last working day.
- PAN submission is mandatory; failure will result in TDS deduction at higher rates.
- You must devote your full time and attention to company business.

- This letter is governed by company policy, and Levitica reserves the right to modify any part of it.

We take this opportunity to welcome you to the Levitica family and wish you a satisfying engagement with us.
